DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sharkan et al. US 5,209,184 in view of Bucholtz US 7,198,161.

Examiner notes Bucholtz '161 qualifies as prior art because it is a division of an application which was filed on August 31, 2007.

Sharkan '184 teaches a container/holding body which is capable of being used to hold cosmetic and pharmaceutical creams, comprising an inner vessel (22), a gap defined by an outer mantle (40), a cover gripping tongue (44) and cut-out (46) for access to the gripping tongue. The reference fails to teach a weakened line in a hinge lug, and the over being molded in a single piece with the holding body.

Bucholtz '161 teaches a container molded in one piece including a hinge/coupling lug with a weakened line to facilitate bending when folding the cover into the closed position.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the hinge/coupling lug of Sharkan '184, forming it in one piece with the container and cover, and, providing the weakened line as taught to be known by Bucholtz '161, and motivated by the benefit of providing the entire unit in one piece in order to reduce the number of steps required in assembling the device, and, providing a stronger, more permanent connection between the container and cover. It has been held that forming in one piece an article which has formerly been formed in two pieces and put together involves only routine skill in the art. Howard v. Detroit Stove Works, 150 U.S. 164 (1893).

3. Claims 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sharkan et al. US 5,209,184 in view of Bucholtz US 7,198,161 as applied above to claim 9, and further in view of Stieler et al. US 3,777,926.

Sharkan '184, as modified above, fails to teach an under-cover washer element comprising a convex central portion and a central through-hole engaging an enlarged head of a peg which is integral with the cover. Examiner notes the container of Sharkan '184 already comprises an undercut step as required by claim 11, read to be the portion inside of rim (40) but outside of bowl portion (22).

Stieler '926 teaches a hinged cover (4) comprising an inner sealing washer (6). Regarding claim 12, although the screw (18) is not integral in one piece with the cover, it is integrally connected with the cover. It has been held that the term "integral" is sufficiently broad to embrace constructions united by such means as fastening and welding. In re Hotte, 177 USPQ 326, 328 (CCPA 1973). Lastly, Examiner notes the central portion (12) of the seal projects outwardly from the rest of the seal, and is thus read to be "convex".

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the cover of Sharkan '184, providing the seal taught by Stieler '926, motivated by the benefit of including an inner seal under the cover which will further prevent leakage of any fluids or food contained in the bowl.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
